Cover story

Once upon a time in America, life stopped when a spacecraft was about to blast off. Teachers interrupted lessons and turned on the radio. People gathered in front of appliance store windows to watch televisions. Everyone counted down with the NASA official. And when that rocket launched, leaving a trail of fire and smoke, people cheered.

Then, kids knew the names of astronauts the way they reel off the Pokemon roster today. It was against this setting, and in the heat of the Cold War, that Liberty Bell 7, the second manned spacecraft, lifted off from Cape Canaveral at 7:20 a.m. on July 21, 1961, with Air Force Capt. Virgil I. "Gus" Grissom aboard, and splashed down 15 minutes and 37 seconds later.

Although the 118.3-mile trip into space was a success, the landing had problems. Grissom was rescued, but the spaceship plunged deep into the Atlantic Ocean. And there it stayed, 302 miles from its launch pad, until an underwater recovery specialist decided he had to bring it up.

Curt Newport's successful expedition is documented in "In Search of Liberty Bell 7," airing Sunday, Dec. 12, on Discovery Channel. His sights, as they had been for 14 years, were on this spacecraft, roughly the size of a refrigerator, lodged 16,043 feet below the sea.

Why would someone dedicate so much time to finding an old spaceship that the government didn't bother to retrieve?

"It was something that was lost and could be recovered and somebody would do it, so I might as well take a stab at it," Newport says from his Maryland home.

Using cutting-edge technology and relying on Newport's 23 years of experience as an expert in underwater salvage and remote-operated vehicles, the 10-man crew gets incredibly lucky early on. The exact site of the splashdown is impossible to calculate, but after spending a week scanning the ridged ocean floor, Newport narrows the location to 88 possibilities. Miraculously, it turns out to be the first one.

"Oh, my God, this is it," Newport says on-screen. "This never happens. The first target." He mists up.

Naturally, the troubles are not over. Hauling to sea level a 2,295-pound (without water) spaceship that is deeper than anything ever recovered is not exactly fly-fishing. Cables break, a new ship is eventually needed, and then there's that pesky bomb that needs to be detonated.

The documentary is interspersed with footage about NASA's Mercury program, America's first mission to put an astronaut into space. The test flight was with Ham, the chimp. The first manned flight was with Alan B. Shepard Jr., and the second such flight was Grissom's. Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., was next in February 1962.

Is 'Frasier' star a Jack Benny fan?

By Taylor Michaels
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

As a "Frasier" fan, I can't help noticing Kelsey Grammer borrowing a number of mannerisms from Jack Benny. Is he a fan? -Joe McElmurry, Pocatello, Idaho.

"Fan" is putting it mildly. Grammer makes no secret of the fact that he reveres Benny as a shining example of a performer who never played down to his audience. He frequently incorporates some of Benny's trademark gestures as a fond salute to his idol.

What can you tell me about Anthony Starke of "The Magnificent Seven"? I've seen him on "Seinfeld" and in the movie "Repossessed." What else has he done? -M.H., Bradenton, Fla.

Well, for starters, he was a member of the ensemble cast of NBC's "Cold Feet" this fall, but you weren't the only one who didn't notice: The show already has been canceled.

Pipeline

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Starke was a pre-law student at Marquette University when he decided to give acting a try. He landed his first job as a quadriplegic patient in the TV movie "First Steps."

In addition to "Seinfeld" (as Jimmy, the guy who always referred to himself in the third person), Starke has appeared on "Cheers," "The Pretender" and "Suddenly Susan," among others, and was a regular on "The George Carlin Show," "One Big Family" and the Fox sitcom "The Last Frontier." His feature film and TV-movie credits include "Nowhere to Run," "License to Kill" and "Inferno."

The 36-year-old actor, who holds a black belt in tae kwon do, lives with his wife and son in Los Angeles.

My mother is convinced that the actress who plays Karen's maid, Rosario, on "Will & Grace" used to be on "The Flying Nun." Can she possibly be correct? -J.R., Atlanta.

Yes. More than three decades ago, Shelley Morrison played the English-language-mangling Sister Sixto on that ABC sitcom with Sally Field.

Can you help me remember the name of the young actress who starred in the TV series version of "National Velvet"? -Ann C., Appleton, Wis.

Lori Martin played Velvet Brown in NBC's 1960-62 series based on the popular children's book. Although she was chosen for that role out of a field of 900 candidates, Martin's career never truly took off. I can't find any credits listed for her after two 1970 appearances on "My Three Sons."

What happened to "The Sopranos"? Will they ever put it back on? -G.C. Sampson, Sharon, N.D.

HBO renewed "The Sopranos" immediately following its debut last winter. The show returns with new episodes in January. Due to budget constraints, cable series like this one almost always have shorter "seasons" than network shows do.

Wilder and chums reunite

By John Crook
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Inside Scoop

Amateur sleuth Larry "Cash" Carter and his police buddy Tony Rossini are back on the case in "The Lady in Question," an A&E Network original mystery premiering Sunday, Dec. 12.

Gene Wilder and Mike Starr reunite as Cash and Tony for this sequel to last January's "Murder in a Small Town," the second-highest-rated movie in A&E's history. Reteaming with them is Tony Award winner Cherry Jones as Mimi Barnes, Cash's plucky fiancee. As with that earlier TV movie, Wilder co-wrote the new teleplay with Gilbert Pearlman.

Their new case involves a murder that may have ties to Nazi Germany but nonetheless hits close to their home in 1938 Stamford, Conn.

The eventual victim is Emma Sachs (Claire Bloom), a world-renowned humanitarian noted for her successful efforts with her late husband to help Jews out of Nazi Germany. Their success has attracted the unwelcome attention of Nazi officer Klaus Gruber (Michael Cumpsty, "L.A. Law"), who is traveling to the States disguised as a Midwestern executive. He would love nothing more than to snuff Emma and steal her list of secret contacts back in Germany.

But it seems the lady in question has a few other people who may not have her best interests at heart. Certainly her longtime traveling companion, Rachel (Barbara Sukowa), has grown weary of Emma's browbeating and belittling. Emma's feckless niece and nephew (Kerry McPherson, Daniel Sarafini-Sauli) would love to get their hands on the old lady's fortune. The maid, Gertie, believes that her years of service have gone unnoticed.

And after Emma announces she is about to change her will to leave all her money to underground resistance groups, she meets her maker faster than you can say, "Here, have a nice cup of tea."

Fans who admired "Murder in a Small Town" will revel once again in all the period details Wilder and his production team have assembled for the production.

"I get to wear gorgeous 1938 clothes and whisk in and out of Yankee Clippers on international flights and in and out of 1938 mansions and French bistros," Jones, who won a Tony for her performance in another period piece, "The Heiress," says with a laugh.

"It's an infectious time because Americans were struggling together out of that catastrophic Depression ... and they were on their way into the next war. It's a period of high style and hopes and dreams and having survived the last decade. They haven't seen anything yet; we know that and they don't. So it's an incredibly poignant time for Americans, I think."

Seasons change, traditions renew
Happy holidays from your American Family agent.

SUNDAY'S BEST BETS

Movie: Switching Goals
6 P.M. ON ABC

Twin girls — one's a superjock, one's not — secretly switch identities to help their father's youth soccer team win its seventh championship. There's just one problem: Now that the league has gone coed, their mother is coaching a team, too, so Dad's win is Mom's loss. By the time the game is over, though, everyone's learned a few lessons in love, loyalty and sportsmanship. Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen star in this new family comedy, with real-life soccer star Alexi Lalas as himself.

Movie: The Lady in Question
7 P.M. ON A&E

Gene Wilder returns to the role of Larry "Cash" Carter ("Murder in a Small Town") in a new 1930s mystery that he co-wrote with Gilbert Pearlman. In this one, the theater director and amateur gumshoe helps his policeman pal Tony (Mike Starr) solve the murder of a wealthy woman (Claire Bloom) who was helping Jews flee the Nazis. Hitler's boys wanted her dead, of course, but so did several of her friends, relatives and employees. Cherry Jones also stars.

Movie: Brotherhood of Murder
7 P.M. ON SHOW

Tom Martinez, an Army dropout with a growing family and shrinking opportunities, finds what he thinks is the answer in the teachings of a neo-Nazi group called the Order. He goes along with some of its unsavory deeds, such as passing counterfeit money, but when the group turns to murder and armed robbery to finance its mission, he has second thoughts. Arrested on the funny-money charge, he teams up with an FBI agent to help bring the group down. William Baldwin, Kelly Lynch and Peter Gallagher star in this fact-based drama based on a book by the real Martinez.

Carla Gugino
A SEASON FOR MIRACLES

Movie: Hefner: Unauthorized
7 P.M. ON USA

"Is he the luckiest man in the world, or the loneliest?" wonders Hugh Hefner's personal assistant Bobbie Arnstein (Natasha Gregson Wagner). Her beyond-the-grave narration holds together this tastefully done biodrama about Hugh Hefner, whose men's magazine helped revolutionize both publishing and America's attitudes toward sex. Hefner look-alike Randall Batinkoff plays the title role, with Rebecca Herbst as high-profile lust interest Barbi Benton and supermodel Rebecca Romijn-Stamos as the second Mrs. Hefner.

Movie: A Season for Miracles
8 P.M. ON CBS

A woman trying to raise her jailed, addicted sister's two children faces losing them to foster care. Unwilling to give them up, she flees with them under assumed names, landing in a town called Bethlehem. It's no ordinary town; it's a place where real miracles happen, thanks to some special people and a little divine intervention. Carla Gugino, Lynn Redgrave, Patty Duke, Laura Dern and Faith Prince star in this heartwarming Hallmark Hall of Fame drama.

Good gift ideas from hosts

By Lorri Antosz Benson
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Need some holiday gift ideas? You may have to look no further than your favorite talk show host.

Queen Latifah has a book out that could be just what your daughter, sister or mother needs. "Ladies First: Revelations From a Strong Woman" is easy to read and offers insight into life's lessons.

Rosie O'Donnell fans still have time to enhance their holiday with her compact disc, "A Rosie Christmas." This is a compilation of duets sung by O'Donnell and a variety of famous friends.

If someone on your gift list loves cooking, try tomes on the subject from Regis Philbin and Kathie Lee Gifford. Take your pick between "Cooking With Regis & Kathie Lee" and "Entertaining With Regis & Kathie Lee: Year-Round Holiday Recipes, Entertaining Tips and Party Ideas."

Speaking of Philbin, he's doing quite well without his co-host on "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?" Others may be feverishly copying the show's format, but many are pointing to Philbin as the reason for the dramatic game show's success. The 65-year-old host is looking good in his Italian suits under the soft lights, which are much more forgiving than the bright lights of daytime.

During last month's rating period, "Millionaire" beat the season premiere of "The X-Files," bringing in such huge numbers that ABC quickly added three days to its November run. It's a good bet we're going to see a lot more of Philbin and his "get rich quick" program.

As for his daytime gig, "Live! — Regis & Kathie Lee" did fine in the November sweeps, holding its own in the middle of the pack.

And although "Judge Judy" took top honors in the syndicated arena, as of press time, Oprah Winfrey had taken command of the No. 1 spot.

King World is very disappointed in the numbers Martin Short is bringing in, but you can't blame his guest list.

In November, Short had a star-studded lineup that included Steven Spielberg, Tom Hanks, Drew Barrymore, Goldie Hawn, Whoopi Goldberg, Paul Reiser and baseball legend Pete Rose — making his first talk show appearance in 10 years.

Queen Latifah

Although most of the talkers are taking a beating this season, one show is posting numbers 11 percent higher than last year's time period average.

The success of Maury Povich's show may be due to a lighter approach. In "Multiple Birth," Povich was asked to keep an eye on four red-haired girls. They led him — on tape — all through toy heaven FAO Schwarz and ended up in Donald Trump's office.

IN FOCUS

Supermodel Claudia Schiffer is profiled in "Intimate Portrait," airing Monday, Dec. 13, on Lifetime.

Born Aug. 25, 1970, in Dusseldorf, Germany, Schiffer had aspirations of becoming a lawyer like her father. Fate changed her career path in 1987 when she was discovered by a modeling agent in a nightclub.

William Baldwin plays a neo-Nazi in "Brotherhood of Murder," a fact-based TV movie airing Sunday, Dec. 12, on Showtime.

Baldwin stars as Tom Martinez, a member of the hate group that was responsible for the death of talk show host Alan Berg.

Martinez has a change of heart and decides to go under cover to help the FBI catch the group's leader.

Monday's Best Bets

Biography of the Year
7 P.M. ON A&E

Bill Gates was knocked down. Bill Clinton bounced back. Monica Lewinsky spoke up. Michael Jordan, Wayne Gretzky, John Elway and Steffi Graf retired. Ricky Martin wowed 'em at the Grammys. George Lucas and Mike Myers ruled the box office. George W. Bush ruled the presidential polls. King Hussein, Joe DiMaggio, Stanley Kubrick and John F. Kennedy Jr. died. Will one of these folks be the cable channel's pick for person of the year?

NFL Football
8 P.M. ON ABC

It's still a couple of weeks until New Year's, but ushering out the old and bringing in the new seems to have already started in the NFL. The Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos haven't been super this season, and it all seemed to start with the retirement of John Elway. The Broncos began 0-4, lost All-Pro back Terrell Davis and never recovered. Meanwhile, the Jacksonville Jaguars are at the head of a new class of league powers, losing just once in its first 10 games. Sporting one of the NFL's top defenses, the Jags have an excellent chance to reach the Super Bowl. And quarterback Mark Brunell is primed for the playoffs. He recently threw for 351 yards against New Orleans.

Everybody Loves Raymond
8 P.M. ON CBS

Ray (Ray Romano) isn't taking any chances that his mom (Doris Roberts) will return this year's Christmas gift — as she and Frank (Peter Boyle) did with last year's specially engraved toaster. He gets the whole clan together to pose for a family portrait to give to her. Unfortunately, although a picture may be worth a thousand words, this one comes with a million aggravations. Patricia Heaton also stars in "The Christmas Picture."

Mark Brunell
NFL FOOTBALL

Ally McBeal
8 P.M. ON FOX

Ally (Calista Flockhart) flashes back to childhood as she helps Cage (Peter MacNicol) seek justice for a fired department store Kriss Kringle (guest star Jim O'Heir, "In God We Trust"). The Santa suit pits the pair against a familiar face; Georgia (Courtney Thorne-Smith) is representing the store. Vicki Lawrence also guest stars in "Saving Santa."

Cosmic Safari
8 P.M. ON TLC

Aren't other planets too hot, too cold, too dark or under too much pressure to sustain life? Not necessarily, says this two-hour special, which visits places right here on Earth — from Antarctica to Old Faithful — where plants and animals thrive under seemingly deadly conditions. Scientists discuss the possibility of life elsewhere in the universe, while computer graphics and pictures from space take viewers on an armchair tour of other worlds where maybe, just maybe, life may be evolving.

Buffy the Vampire Slayer
7 P.M. ON WB

In "Hush," the people of Sunnydale lose the power to speak and face the loss of something more critical when an entity that lives on human hearts comes to town. Buffy's (Sarah Michelle Gellar) confrontation with the stranger gives Riley (Marc Blucas) his first glimpse of her powers. Surprises await Willow (Alyson Hannigan) when she visits a group of Wiccans. Nicholas Brendon also stars.

Biography

Back home, Sally (Kristen Johnston) seeks a cure for her snoring, while Harry and Tommy (French Stewart, Joseph Gordon-Levitt) seek guidance with their mission statement from the boob tube. Jane Curtin also stars in "Charitable Dick."

Wednesday's Best Bets

Cosby
7 P.M. ON CBS

In "The Parent Trap," rookie teacher Erica (T'Keyah Crystal Keymah) wants to get her students' parents more involved in their schooling. But a visit to the home of one difficult youngster shows her that'll be easier said than done; the boy is getting virtually all his extracurricular intellectual stimulation from TV and video games. Bill Cosby and Phylicia Rashad also star.

Beverly Hills, 90210
7 P.M. ON FOX

Donna (Tori Spelling) shares her family secret with Gina (Vanessa Marcil), who seeks support from Dylan (Luke Perry) instead of David (Brian Austin Green). That decision leads David to one of his own in "Sibling Revelry." Speaking of decisions, Kelly (Jennie Garth) decides it's time to determine once and for all what Dylan's role in her life is. Ian Ziering also stars.

Next Door With Katie Brown: 12 Tips of Christmas Special
7 P.M. ON LIFE

You don't need Martha Stewart's time and money to have a beautiful Christmas. In this hourlong special, Lifetime lifestyle guru Brown offers some quick and easy ideas for holiday decorations and goodies that won't break the bank. They include three yummy eggnog recipes that start with the store-bought kind and a simple but elegant way to light up the living room. Some of the tips come from viewers who sent in ideas to Lifetime's Website, which is hosting a chat with Brown right after the show.

Becker
7:30 P.M. ON CBS

A stressful day at the office has the newly smoke-free John (Ted Danson) ready to rejoin the ranks of buttheads. Salvation comes in the form of a visiting friend of Reggie's (Terry Farrell), with whom he finds a more enjoyable activity. But is the nicotine fiend in danger of becoming a sex fiend? Hattie Winston also stars.

Investigative Reports
8 P.M. ON A&E

Mention organized crime, and most of us think of names such as Gotti and Colombo (or Corleone and Soprano). But members of the world's fastest-growing mob are more likely to be named Ivan or Igor. "Long Arm of the Russian Mob" is a chilling look at how gangsters in the former Soviet Union have wasted no time taking advantage of their new freedom.

The Greatest Millennium
10 P.M. ON COMD

Everybody's doing millennium specials, so why not "The Daily Show"? The series itself is a one-of-a-kind potpourri of current events, comedy and chat, so expect more of the same here. Host Jon Stewart leads a wacky review of the past 1,000 years, with help from correspondents Beth Littleford, Stephen Colbert, Mo Rocca, Steve Carell and others.

THURSDAY'S BEST BETS

Diagnosis Murder
7 P.M. ON CBS

Mark and Steve (Dick Van Dyke, Barry Van Dyke) make a shocking discovery about Claude, the hospital's popular maintenance man, who's just been diagnosed with a terminal illness. He turns out to be an escaped convict who was convicted years earlier of killing his wife. Mark believes Claude when he says he's innocent and sets out to clear his name. At the same time, the good doctor is busy with another project: putting together a barbershop quartet for the hospital's holiday bash.

Friends
7 P.M. ON NBC

Janine (Elle Macpherson) is hired to dance on Dick Clark's New Year's Eve special, and Joey, Monica and Ross (Matt LeBlanc, Courteney Cox Arquette, David Schwimmer) tag along for the taping. Of course, most of the show is live, but Joey's fingers are crossed that they'll at least rehearse the midnight part, so he can steal a kiss from Janine. While Monica's off making a fool of herself dancing with her brother, Phoebe and Rachel (Lisa Kudrow, Jennifer Aniston) raid her place to see what she got them for Christmas. Matthew Perry also stars in "The One With the Routine."

The Second Annual Nobel Concert for Peace
7 P.M. ON FAM

Performers hadn't been announced at this writing, but expect a star-studded lineup to take the stage in tribute to this year's Nobel Peace Prize winner, the group Doctors Without Borders. The two-hour special also includes backstage footage, interviews with past Nobel laureates and world leaders, and messages of peace from children around the world.

DIAGNOSIS MURDER

Charmed
8 P.M. ON WB

In the encore of "The Painted World," Prue (Shannen Doherty) reads some mysterious writing off a painting and discovers she's said the magic words. Now she's caught, "Jumanji"-style, inside the picture with a warlock whose intentions are less than friendly. Back in the real world, Phoebe (Alyssa Milano) prepares for a job interview by casting a spell to make her smarter. Holly Marie Combs also stars.

ER
9 P.M. ON NBC

In "How the Finch Stole Christmas" — not to be confused with last year's hilarious holiday episode of "Just Shoot Me" — Dr. Finch (Michael Michele) hospitalizes a young alcoholic (Emile Hirsch). It's for his own protection, but she feels like a scrooge for scuttling his family's yuletide plans. Lucy (Kellie Martin) races the clock to help a young woman in need of a heart. A Santa-suited Dr. Carter (Noah Wyle) makes a wounded gang member an offer: his gun for something from Santa's bag. Soon he's swamped with gangbangers wanting the same deal. Laura Innes also stars.

Friday's Best Bets

Kids Say the Darndest Things
7 P.M. ON CBS

It's a half-hour of ho-ho-ho as host Bill Cosby and his little guests talk about Christmas. One boy offers tips for the perfect Christmas dinner, with some very unconventional serving suggestions for Jell-O. Several youngsters weigh in on the reasons for Santa's girth ("It's the cookies," one concludes). Cosby shares a childhood story of his own and reads from the revised edition of Bill Adler's book "Children's Letters to Santa Claus."

Olive, the Other Reindeer
7 P.M. ON FOX

Not to be confused with the apocryphal reindeer who used to dump on Rudolph, Olive is a plucky little dog who learns Blitzen's on the disabled list and Christmas may be called off unless "all of the other reindeer" can help. She mishears "all of" as "Olive" and is soon North Pole-bound to save the day. Drew Barrymore provides the voice of Olive in this charming animated adaptation of the children's book. Ed Asner supplies the voice of Santa, with Peter MacNicol ("Ally McBeal") as Olive's pet flea, Fido, and Dan Castellaneta ("The Simpsons") as a scroogian postman.

Movie: Millennium Man
7 P.M. ON UPN

The Six Million Dollar Man was a bargain compared to ADAM, a synthetic man with human intelligence and the power to transform into an invincible fighting machine. Andrew Jackson ("The Last Don II") stars as both ADAM and his "evil twin," an earlier model currently in the custody of a jewel thief with spy ties. A U.S. intelligence agent's pursuit of the villainous pair culminates in a showdown between the two superdroids. Eric Scott Woods and Monte Markham also star.

Olive
OLIVE, THE OTHER REINDEER

Investigative Reports
8 P.M. ON A&E

"Schizophrenia" mixes triumph, tragedy, biology and controversy in an hourlong examination of the often-misunderstood mental illness. The success story of artist and schizophrenia patient Marty Cohen provides the triumphant element. The tragedy is in the story of Ruth Millar, slain by her own son, who wouldn't take his medication. Whether patients have the right to refuse drugs is one of the major controversies surrounding schizophrenia; another is whether drugs are even the best treatment.

Figure Skating
8 P.M. ON LIFE

"Cup of Russia" is the fourth installment in the cable channel's first-ever coverage of the International Skating Union Grand Prix. Andrea Joyce hosts, with Terry Gannon, Peter Carruthers and Susie Wynne providing commentary. Lifetime's coverage, airing from St. Petersburg, Russia, focuses on pairs and ice dancing; other events can be seen on ABC and ESPN.

Saturday's Best Bets

NFL Football
11:30 A.M. ON CBS

With five wins each at the 10-game mark and needing a late-season push to claim a playoff spot, this clash between the Pittsburgh Steelers and Kansas City Chiefs has the makings of a down-and-dirty defensive struggle. Both head coaches, the Steelers' Bill Cowher and the Chiefs' Gunther Cunningham, are former defensive coordinators, so they know the value of a sound defense mixed in with a no-risk offense.

Movie: The Preacher's Wife
7 P.M. ON ABC

A man (Denzel Washington) dressed in gray and carrying a handbook for angels arrives at the house of a preacher (Courtney B. Vance), claiming to be heaven-sent. Tension builds when the mysterious man is drawn to the preacher's wife (Whitney Houston), a beautiful woman with a heart of gold and the voice of an angel, who sometimes is neglected by her husband. Gregory Hines also stars in this 1996 fantasy.

Holiday at Pops!
7 P.M. ON A&E

The Boston Pops Orchestra provides the tunes, while Broadway and cabaret singer Liz Callaway and R & B-pop star Aaron Neville supply the lyrics at this year's edition of the Pops' Christmas show. Also on hand is local boy Conan O'Brien, who reads the poem "A Visit From St. Nicholas" (a k a " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas"). And look for the guy in the red suit to put in an appearance and perhaps even perform with the orchestra. Keith Lockhart conducts.

Nia Peeples
WALKER, TEXAS RANGER

Martial Law/Walker, Texas Ranger
8 P.M. ON CBS

The bad guys are giving Santa a bad name. In "Sammo Claus," Sammo and Amy (Sammo Hung, Gretchen Egolf) don North Pole garb to catch the thieves in Kringle clothing whose loot of choice is Armando the Talking Armadillo, the season's hottest toy. But these crooks are after something much bigger than desperate parents' dollars. In "A Matter of Faith," Gage and Sydney (Judson Mills, Nia Peeples) go after Santa-suited robbers who are targeting mall guards, while Walker (Chuck Norris) investigates the beating of a pastor and the theft of toys for the poor from his church.

Radio City Music Hall's Grand Re-Opening Gala
9 P.M. ON NBC

If you can't make it to America's most famous holiday stage show, pay a vicarious visit to Radio City Music Hall by checking out this special. Taped in October, as the landmark theater showed off the results of a seven-month, $70 million face lift, it's a star-studded hour of music and comedy with appearances by Billy Crystal, Liza Minnelli, Ann Miller, Sting, Mary J. Blige and 98 Degrees, among others. It also includes clips from the hall's great moments, from concerts to awards shows.
